SPEAKER FORUM: THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21 @ 6:00 PM

Jens Munk: An expedition ahead of its time

The Danish Canadian Club is hosting a speaker night featuring a talk on the attempt 400 years ago by Jens Munk to find the Northwest Passage from Denmark. The expedition ultimately resulted in Munk and his crew being stuck in Hudson Bay (Churchill River) through the Canadian winter. He came closer to finding the Northwest Passage than anyone had before, two hundred years before Franklin and 300 years before Amundsen.

The evening starts with dinner, followed by a presentation by Carl Sørensen, board member for the Danish Canadian Museum in Dickson, and member of the Jens Munk Committee.

The evening starts at 5:30 pm with dinner served at 6.

Menu: Smoked salmon served on a bed of stewed spinach. Frikadeller served with red cabbage, potatoes and gravy, lemon mousse.

Price $32.50 per person (GST and gratuity included)

The shareholders' Annual Meeting will take place in the Valhalla Hall of the Danish Canadian Club on Wednesday, September 18, starting at 7:00 p.m.

If you are interested in election to the Board of Directors, please contact John Steffensen, Chair of the Nominating Committee, at (403) 239-8554. In order to run for President of the Danish Canadian Club you must have served 1 year on the Board of Directors. In order to be on the Board you must be a shareholder.

If you cannot be present, mail or deliver your proxy to Eva at the DCC office.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

John Steffensen
President

Greetings from the Board of Directors and the staff of the Danish Canadian Club.

We hope you had a good summer and enjoyed your summer activities and vacations.

The club was closed from July 28 through August 22 for a well-deserved vacation break for management and staff.

The fiscal year ending March 2018 reported improved financial results from previous years, but unfortunately the club's overall income from the Mermaid Inn, social events and other in-house catered events, has declined over the past year.

This continues to reflect the current economy in Calgary, plus an increase in supply costs, utilities, wages and taxes.

The board and management encourage our members and shareholders to take advantage of the club's services and facilities so that we can continue to be an active and viable cultural club for years to come, and be able to celebrate our 90th anniversary in 2023.

The Stampede Breakfast was well attended with more than 300 guests served. Thanks again to all the volunteers who kept the guests well fed and have done so for the past 36 years. Please refer to Knud's acknowledgment later in this newsletter of the many volunteers who make this annual event possible. Thanks to Bente for arranging the face painter, which is always popular with the children.

Anne Christopher and the scholarship committee are reviewing applications for two $3,000 scholarships, which will be awarded at the Annual General Meeting held Wednesday, September 18.

For those members who regularly access email, the club encourages you to sign up for the electronic version of this newsletter, which has been recently enhanced with links to our website and Facebook page. In addition, you will be notified of items of interest that occur between publications. This will save the club expenses for printing and mailings. If you would like to receive the newsletter via email, please contact Eva at evam@danishclubcalgary.com

Shareholders who are current members, please mark your calendars for the Annual General Meeting on Wednesday, September 18.

2019 is Peter's 25th year as General Manager of the Danish Canadian Club. We have an evening celebration planned to recognize Peter's contribution to the success of the club on October 18. Be sure to check out this newsletter, the Danish Canadian Club website and Facebook page for more details about this and other upcoming events.

We are pleased to continue the "Speakers Forum" evening in the upcoming year. If you have suggestions for future speakers, please contact Eva at evam@danishclubcalgary.com and she will connect you with the committee chair.

The next speaker's forum is planned for November 21 with Carl Sørensen from Edmonton as guest speaker. The topic will be "The Jens Munk Journey." More details are in this newsletter and on our website. Hope to see you there for another interesting presentation and great meal provided by the club.

The Danish Canadian Club board is always looking for volunteers who would be interested in serving on the board as vacancies arise, in addition to volunteering for the various committees, such as our social committee. For more information, please contact Eva at evam@danishclubcalgary.com.

Thanks to Peter and his staff, member volunteers, volunteer board members, and club members for continuing to make the Danish Canadian Club a successful and active club.

A GREEN ECONOMY GROWS IN DENMARK

With its lively waterfront, tree-lined canal, and red-brick buildings topped by steep gunmetalgray roofs, Aarhus looks like just another coastal city in Northern Europe. But get closer, and what comes into focus is a place central to the continent's remarkable shift to renewable energy. Down by the docks, at a facility nestled among huge oil tanks that reek of the past, the world's biggest wind-turbine maker tests parts for these gargantuan machines of the future. Meanwhile, in offices all across Denmark's second-largest city, fast-growing cadres of energy traders are making big bucks from the volatility that wind and solar power generate.

This didn't happen by accident. What would ultimately become Vestas Wind Systems A/S started as a blacksmith shop in 1898 on the western edge of Jutland, a windswept peninsula sandwiched between the North Sea and southern Sweden. Until the 1970s the company's products ranged from milk coolers to steel window frames. As Denmark, a net energy importer, was stung by that decade's oil crises, Vestas turned its hand to alternative energy. Early turbine prototypes-including one that looked like a giant egg whisk-were developed in secret. After several decades building up its wind-turbine business, the company moved its headquarters to Aarhus, Jutland's biggest city.

Today wind regularly meets more than half of Denmark's demand for power. As the country's reliance on wind has grown, Aarhus and surrounding towns have become a renewable energy melting pot of manufacturers and suppliers, traders and analysts, specialist lawyers and academics. China's largest maker of wind turbines, Xinjiang Goldwind Science & Technology Co., has a research office here. In 2016 energy and environmental companies accounted for the port city's second-biggest export industry (after food), according to the latest available data from the municipality. "Renewable energy plays a huge role in the city," says Mayor Jacob Bundsgaard. "It's not just Vestas."

Traders sometimes liken Aarhus to the Swiss commodities hubs in Geneva or Zug. Judging from the low turnover rates at local trading firms, the city (population 345,000) offers enough to keep people from shoving off to Copenhagen or London or beyond. Besides the buzz of the work, the attractions range from the cosmopolitan ambiance provided by Aarhus University to four restaurants with Michelin stars. "Aarhus more than lives up to big brother Copenhagen's reputation as a foodie destination," says Soren Jessen, a Danish former banker who owns restaurants in London.

Bundsgaard, 43, has been mayor since 2011. Most mornings, typifying the municipality's mission to become carbon neutral by 2030, he cycles to work at city hall. Aarhus, where CO2 emissions have been cut in half over the past decade, has built a 110-kilometer (68-mile) electric tram network and will introduce electric buses this year. Wastewater treatment plants are ordinarily very energy-intensive; Aarhus's produces 40% more power than it consumes.

Perhaps the most striking monument to Aarhus's place in the world of renewable energy is a biomass plant that opened in 2017. Atop a hill at Lisbjerg, on the edge of the city, three enormous 45-meter-high glass boxes soar above a landscape of farms and woodland. More than 60 trucks a day deliver agricultural straw to the plant when it's running at full capacity. Next door, in another box, there's an older waste facility. Here, 150 trucks a day dump rubbish that's incinerated at 1,000C (1,832F). Both plants produce electricity and pump hot water into the Aarhus district's heating system. "We're almost free from coal now," Bundsgaard says.

Do you want your baptism to be confirmed and are you 14+ years old?

Then you might be interested in enrolling in our confirmation preparation class. Confirmations will be held in the spring of 2020, after one of the services. Please bring a copy of your baptismal certificate to either one of the services on September 1 to enroll. If you are not able to attend the service that Sunday, please call or email Pastor Charlotte Berg before September 7, 2019. 403-719-3832 or charlotteberg1@gmail.com
Classes will start in October.

How can you protect yourself against mobile and digital fraud?

We have all experienced an attempt to lure us into traps on our phones or internet, and not everyone is able to see through the scam before it's too late, with the potential to lose money or online information. On October 24 at 7:30 pm, Constable James Dore from District 3 will tell us what we can do to protect ourselves from that kind of crime and what to do if our luck has run out.

Feel free to bring family and friends along!
Coffee and tea will be served.

Sing-alongs

We sit a lot in church, during services, coffees, movies and different church groups.

At sing-alongs, we do also sit but only to exercise our lungs, breath and pelvis in order to sing louder and for a longer time without getting exhausted. It also improves our mental shape! Science has shown that people who sing are less prone to winter depression and their immune systems are strengthened. So come along!

We start: Thursday, Sept. 19, 7:30pm-10pm

During the Fall, the dates will be Oct. 17, Nov. 7 and the Christmas sing-along will be Dec 5.

Danish Classes I+II+III

Are you of Danish descent or perhaps married to a Dane? Do you get guests from Denmark or go to Denmark yourself? Would you like to know the Danish language a little better? A new Danish I for Beginners is starting October 15, 7-9:30pm, and we meet every first and third Tuesday of the month.

In order to have a successful start, please be present from the very first evening, and once three sessions have passed, it is too late to start. Every session builds upon the previous one and for those who started full of enthusiasm, it is discouraging listening only to repetition.

If you are interested, just show up on October 15th.

A fee of $50 will apply.

GUS ANDERSEN'S 100th BIRTHDAY

On July 20th, a few of us celebrated the 100th birthday of our past president of the Danish Canadian Club, Gus Andersen. Gus is an amazing guy and so full of life, but he won't tell us the secret for staying so well.

All the best to you old friend. Keep doing what you are doing!

Best regards,
(Social Committee)

TREASURE DRAW

There has been a bit of confusion as to how the treasure draw works.

At the end of the day we take and list all the names and numbers of people who put in their toonie.

We then draw a membership card out of a drum with all the member cards in it, and if we have a match with someone who put their toonie in that day the pot is won, if not the pot will keep building up till we have a match.

ARTICLE FOR MEMBER INFO

The DCC is committed to keeping the membership current on activities at the club through various means. Currently the main source is the bi-monthly Newsletter and Facebook. We would like to establish an email distribution database in conjunction with a new website to make sure you are informed with activities at the DCC.

We encourage you to consider receiving the Newsletter through electronic media options which will reduce our printing, handling and mailing costs. These costs are a substantial expense and given the current economic environment prudent fiscal management is critical to your club.

We would appreciate it if you would respond to the following questionnaire to meet these objectives.

You can either email the DCC, phone or drop off the form at the club.
